

Name _____ Date _____

TEAMWORK SITUATION

Problems can arise in any team activity, and to succeed, you must face the hurdles. Below are some of the obstacles teams may confront; what would you do in each situation?

Some essential supplies for your team project have gone missing. What would you do to find and replace them together?

Your team needs to decide between two different approaches. What process would you follow to make a fair and informed decision as a team?

One team member is not participating as much as the others. How would you encourage them to contribute and make everyone feel included?

Your team's main equipment breaks during an activity. What would you do to overcome this challenge and continue working together effectively?

One teammate seems left out and forgotten. What actions would you take to make sure everyone feels equally important in the team?

Your team has different ideas on how to solve a problem. What would you do to ensure everyone's ideas are heard and considered?
