

Name: _____

Date: _____

Elevation and Contour Lines

Topographic maps are similar to regular maps because they show locations, but they also show the height of both natural and man-made features. Use the contour lines and intervals to find the elevation range of the features on this map.

List the height of each point in the picture, starting with the lowest.
