

Types of Government

Name: _____

Date: _____

Read each sentence below and write whether the statement is true or false!

Statements	True or False
In a dictatorship, the leader is elected by popular vote.
Monarchies are always ruled by a king or queen.
A theocracy is a type of government based on religious law.
Communism is based on private ownership of resources.
Anarchy is the absence of any formal government.
A constitutional monarchy has a monarch with unlimited powers.
Totalitarian regimes control every aspect of public and private life.
The United States is an example of a parliamentary democracy.
A confederation is a loose alliance of independent states.
Capitalism is a type of government system.
An oligarchy is a government controlled by a small group of people.
Fascism emphasizes the importance of individual rights over the state.
In a unitary system, all key powers are held by the central government.
A democracy is a type of government where power is held by the people.
In a direct democracy, citizens vote on laws directly, without representatives.	