MAX AND THE RED BALLOON

Max loved balloons. One day, his dad gave him a big, shiny red balloon. Max held it tight as they walked to the park.

At the park, Max ran around with his balloon. "Look, Daddy! It's flying so high!" Max said. The balloon floated up and down in the wind.

Suddenly, Max tripped on a rock, and the balloon slipped out of his hand. "Oh no!" Max cried as the balloon floated up, up, and away.

His dad hugged him and said, "Don't worry, Max. We can get another one next time." Max smiled and said, "Okay, Daddy. I'll hold it tighter next time!"
